

discount STANSGATE declared as a soldier, an N.C.O., an officer of the Intelligence Corps and afterwards with I.C.I. "by every showing we know of Mr. Lang was deserving of public praise." Was there something new about him "or are they taking old cases of people who have been acquitted and trying them and recharging them on some new standard?"

June 22nd.

To the Editor,
The Daily Telegraph.

33

Sir,

With reference to the statement made by Lord Stansgate in the House of Lords on Thursday regarding the "Lang Case", whilst not wishing to enter into any controversy, I consider that he, as President of the Parliamentary Union, and as such the responsible person for permitting the Supreme Union and the Cortes of General Franco into the Union - as if they were freely elected parliaments - he is not the best qualified person to make such a declaration.

Yours etc...

Manuel de Irujo