

Audorra Bearsden Glasgow

5. viii. 53

Dear Sr Ivigo,

It is indeed a long time since our paths have crossed, and I was very interested to hear from you again. The "Arana Goiri" you have so kindly sent me I shall certainly hope to make time to read, and am sure I shall do so with much profit. But there is, I fear, no remotest possibility of my being able to write anything on the subject. The deaths of Professors Entwistle and Allison Peers have thrown a very heavy burden of additional work on my shoulders and I am hard put to it to cope with the things that must be done. My immediate, inescapable commitments will fill at least the next three years. Which is far from meaning, of course, that I have lost any of my interest in the cause for which you fight so nobly.

Sincerely yours,

William C Atkinson

I am, I think, indebted to you for the copy of Hamlet in Basque translation which I received some time ago from B.A. Very many thanks.
