R.C.Stevenson, Esq., C.B.E.,
Long Rock,
Aldington, Kent.

Dear Mr.Stevenson,

Don Manuel de Irujo sent me your address. He has spoken of the excellent efforts you made for our people when you were British Consul in Bilbao, my native town. We cannot, and would not wish to, forget such a good friend.

We have heard that you are not well these days. It is sincerely to be hoped that you have now fully recovered. In any case Don Manuel and his colleagues in the Delegation in Paris wish to be remembered most warmly to you; they would also like to know if you are well now, and getting along comfortably in your retirement. To this enquiry, and good wishes, are added the warmest greetings from the Delegation in London, now centred at this house (address above).

If you would care to send a message to Don Manuel, or would like any service within my power, to be done through this Delegation, please do not hesitate to let me know.

With renewed good wishes from

Berta Echevarria de Chamberlain
(Mrs.B.Chamberlain)

Mi querido amigo señor Stevenson:

Hace mucho tiempo que no tenemos nuevas de usted. La última vez que cambié con usted un saludo epistolar se encontraba usted delicado. Con Ojanguren hablaba de usted alguna vez, pero está en Roma. Quiero que usted sepa que le recordamos con el cariño de siempre, que le tenemos por un gran amigo nuestro, que hacemos votos por su salud y que, en cualquier caso, estamos a su disposición.

Con mi cordial saludo

Manuel de Irujo
